

■ December 1989

November 26–December 1: 75th Scientific Assembly and Annual Meeting of the Radiological Society of North America. McCormick Place, Chicago, Illinois. Topics presented range from late breaking clinical studies in radiation therapy to new procedures in ultrasound, MRI, and CT scans. More than 1,300 scientific papers will be presented and over 500 technological exhibits and 360 scientific exhibits will be showcased. Contact: Carolyn Mills, RSNA, 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago, IL 60601. (312) 558-1770.

■ January 1990

22–26: Diagnostic Radiology Seminars. Ixtapa, Mexico. This course is designed primarily for radiologists in general practice and provides a survey of selected subdivisions of diagnostic radiology. Recent advances in diagnostic radiology will be explored. There will be a technologist program. 25 Category I credits and 25 ECE credits are available. Fees: $515 physicians; $415 residents, fellows, nurses, and techs. Contact: Renee Sauers, University of California San Francisco, 3rd & Parnassus Aves., San Francisco, CA 94143-0628. (415) 476-5731.

■ February 1990

10–17: 5th Annual Snowmass 1990: MR and CT of the Head and Spine. Sponsored by the Florida Radiological Society and AANS/CNS. Silvertree/Wildwood Hotels, Snowmass, Colorado. This course is designed to expand current imaging applications in clinical medicine. Tips and techniques to optimize interpretation as well as case studies and clinical teaching sessions structured to illustrate appropriate utilization. 1–20 Category I credits available. Fees: $425 physicians; $325 techs, scientists. Contact: Dept. of Radiology Program Committee, PO Box 17241, Tampa, FL 33682-7241. (813) 873-2090.

19–23: 6th Annual Winter Imaging Seminar: Perspective in Imaging. Sponsored by the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. Camino Real Hotel, Cancun, Mexico. This seminar analyzes a variety of imaging procedures including various aspects of chest imaging, gastrointestinal tract imaging, obstetrical imaging, and the use of Doppler ultrasound. A variety of these areas with analyses in CT, MRI, ultrasound and gallbladder lithotripsy will be discussed. 18 Category I credits available. Fees: $495 physicians; $375 residents; $225 techs. Contact: Janice Ford, Dept. of Radiology, Hospital of the University of Penn, 3400

Spruce St., Philadelphia, PA 19104. (215) 662-6904.

■ March 1990

5–9: 13th Annual Skeletal Symposium. Sponsored by the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. Sun Valley Lodge and Inn, Sun Valley, Idaho. This conference emphasizes practical aspects of bone and joint disease, including latest imaging modalities. 24 Category I credits available. Fees: $495 physicians; $350 residents and techs. Contact: Nancy Fedullo, Dept. of Radiology, Hospital of the University of Penn, 3400 Spruce St., Philadelphia, PA 19104. (215) 662-6982.

17–24: 2nd Annual Snowmass 1990: Practical Magnetic Resonance Imaging. Sponsored by the Florida Radiological Society. Silvertree/Wildwood Hotels, Snowmass, Colorado. This course is a comprehensive review of applications and limitations. Also offered is a complete teaching course for those who order, perform, and interpret MRI. 1–20 Category I credits available. Fees: $425 physicians; $325 techs, scientists. Contact: Dept. of Radiology Program Committee, PO Box 17241, Tampa, FL 33682-7241. (813) 873-2090.

■ April 1990

2–6: Radiology Review Course 1990. Sponsored by the University of Florida College of Medicine. Grosvenor Resort, Disney World/EPCOT Center Florida. This course is a comprehensive review of all aspects of diagnostic radiology. Emphasis is on practical aspects of clinical practice. This course will also serve as a Board review for senior radiology residents. 1–38 Category I credits available. Fees: $425 physicians; $325 techs, scientists. Contact: Dept. of Radiology Program Committee, PO Box 17241, Tampa, FL 33682-7241. (813) 873-2090.

4–5: 26th Annual Meeting of the National Council on Radiation Protection and Management. Mayflower Hotel, Washington, DC. Principal Scientific Session: Health and Ecological Implications of Radioactivity Contaminated Sites. Contact: NCRP, 7910 Woodmont Ave., Suite 800, Bethesda, MD 20814.

6–8 Central Chapter, SNM 1990 Spring Meeting–Nuclear Endocrinology. Hyatt Regency, Dearborn, Michigan. Topics include: AIDS, bone mineral analysis, HMPAO, MIBG, PET and SPECT tracers, organ imaging, organ transplantation, pulmonary embolism, tomographic techniques, and tumors. Category I, VOICE, and IDNS credit will be available. Fees: $150 physicians; $85 techs.

Contact: Central Chapter, SNM, 2321 Fourth St., Suite 111, Tucker, GA 30084. (404) 493-4524.

23–26: Clinical Nuclear Medicine 1990.

Sponsored by Harvard Medical School and the Joint Program in Nuclear Medicine. This is the 14th Annual Postgraduate course and is offered at a number of hospitals and medical centers in the Boston area. 26 Category I credits available. Fees: $500 physicians; $350 residents and techs. Contact: William D. Kaplan, MD, Harvard Med-CME, Box 825, Boston, MA 02117. (617) 732-1525.

29–May 4: 7th Annual Magnetic Resonance Imaging 1990: National Symposium. Sponsored by the Florida Radiological Society and AANS/CNS. The Mirage, Las Vegas, Nevada. MRI of the head and spine, body, mobile MRI, and future applications in MRI will be explored. There will be commercial exhibits. 1–40 Category I credits available. Fees: $575 physicians; $325 techs, scientists. Contact: Dept. of Radiology Program Committee, PO Box 17241, Tampa, FL 33682-7241. (813) 873-2090.
