

DIRECTORY OF ACCREDITED NUCLEAR MEDICINE TECHNOLOGY PROGRAMS

The directory of accredited programs identifies those programs that have met or exceeded the Accreditation Standards for Nuclear Medicine Technologist Education. These programs have voluntarily undergone a peer review process established by the JRCNMT. Programmatic accreditation by the JRCNMT provides assurance to applicants that the program delivers education based on recognized professional standards. For a listing of programs, including website and contact information, go to <http://www.jrcnmt.org> and select the "Find a Program" link.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Standards

Accreditation standards are minimum educational standards against which programs are evaluated. Each new program is assessed in accordance with the standards, and accredited programs are periodically reviewed to determine whether they remain in substantial compliance. The standards are available on the JRCNMT website at <http://www.jrcnmt.org>.

Inquiries

Requests for information on program accreditation, including the standards, preparing the self-study report, and arranging a site visit, may be addressed to:
